Spiker Bardo reaching new heights in France

Middle Blocker Cassandra Bardo, who graduated from the Concordia Stingers women's volleyball program last spring, is enjoying great success as the head coach and star player of Nantes VB, a professional division III team in France. Bardo, who was Concordia's Female Athlete of the Year in 1993 and again in '96, left Montreal in September to take over the reigns of Nantes VB. The team is located in the city of Nantes, a major ocean port in the west of France. Nantes VB finished the 1995-'96 volleyball season in last place, but since Bardo's arrival the team has been rising quickly. Nantes VB currently has a 10-2 win-loss record and is in second place in its 12-team league. Bardo will return to Montreal when the volleyball season wraps up in April. Next fall she hopes to return to Europe and find a spot with a higher calibre team.
